Weekly Newsletter

Friday 22nd November

We believe that all of our students have the opportunity to thrive in our inclusive, nurturing and inspiring environment where they will grow into creative and confident learners without limits.

Dear Parents and Carers,

A special message this week from Miss Watt:

The Spirited Arts Competition is an international competition run yearly by the National Association of Teachers of Religious Education. This year, 3000 entries were submitted from over 470 schools including entries from Bahrain, Cyprus, Canada, Hong Kong, India, Thailand, Vietnam and Iran. The theme we chose for our competition entries in 2024 was "Why do animals matter?".

I am delighted to announce we have a competition winner here at Ramsey Manor Lower School!

Niamh in Beech Class (Year 2) is our competition winner for the Spirited Arts Competition category "Why do animals matter?".

Niamh produced a beautiful piece of artwork and writing linked to "The Golden Rule." Her work can be seen on the NATRE website: <https://www.natre.org.uk/about-natre/projects/spirited-arts/spirited-arts-gallery/2024/>

Niamh will receive a special certificate and prize in December. Congratulations Niamh- we are very proud of you!

Miss Watt (RE Subject Lead)

Our current value is RESPECT.

Open Classrooms

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the parents who have been able to come along to one of our open classroom events over the last two weeks. We hope that you have found the process both informative and enjoyable. We have been overwhelmed by the positive feedback that we have received and we will continue to offer these experiences moving forward. Open classroom events continue next week as we explore phonics in Saplings, Year 1 and Year 2.

School is closed to students next Friday 29th November as it is a teacher training day. School is open as normal on Monday 2nd December. Thank you.
