Weekly Newsletter

Friday 1st May

We believe that all of our students have the opportunity to thrive in our inclusive, nurturing and inspiring environment where they will grow into creative and confident learners without limits.

Dear Parents and Carers,

It has been a lovely sunny end to the week as we head into the Bank Holiday weekend.

Thank you to our Year 4 parents who came into school yesterday for the final PGL parent information session. The trip has come around very quickly and we know the children are going to have an absolutely amazing time next week, enjoying new experiences and creating lasting memories. A big thank you to our staff team for all of their preparation and for supporting the children throughout the visit.

Yesterday we were also delighted to welcome local author Lou Treleaven to the school. She led a fantastic whole-school assembly followed by engaging workshops with each year group. It is fair to say she truly inspired our students and showed them that anything is possible. Thank you to Mrs Chandler for organising such a special opportunity.

We wish all of our families a wonderful Bank Holiday weekend and thank you, as always, for your continued support. Also, thank you for completing the parent survey over the last couple of weeks.

Yours sincerely,
Mr Colin Moore

Our current value is RESPONSIBILITY.

Scholastic Book Fair

Following on from our fantastic visit from local author Lou Treleaven, we are delighted to share that the Scholastic Book Fair will once again be returning to Ramsey Manor. This is a really important event for our school, as it helps us raise valuable funds to continually invest in our library and ensure our students have access to the very best reading opportunities. The Book Fair will run from Thursday 14th May to Monday 18th May and will be open after school each day. We hope to see lots of you there supporting this brilliant event.

We still have tickets available for the amazing Happy Circus event on Saturday 6th June that our brilliant PTA are hosting. Please check your ParentMail account for information on how to buy a ticket.
